

IFSC Pan-American Championships

Update About Closures

One of the big reasons we agreed to host the 2020 IFSC Pan-American Championships was to bring a historic event for our community to witness first hand: a unique gathering of athletes trailblazing a path that may never happen again--the Olympic road. In short, from the beginning we have had our members and guests in the forefront of our minds.

During the upcoming closures leading into the competition, the below describes how preparation will affect member and guest access.

Competition Preparation Begins, Wednesday, 2/19

Pre-Qualifying Competition, Tuesday, 2/25: limited climbing and spectating

Pan-American Championships Competition, Thursday, 2/27 - Sunday, 3/1, spectating only

Regular Operations Resume, Monday, 3/2

Areas and programming closed for preparation and competition:

The Torch & Speed Wall, 2/19 - 3/1
Front Side of Downstairs Bouldering Area, 2/20 - 3/1
Yoga Classes, 2/25 - 3/1
Fitness Area, 2/25 - 3/1

Areas open for climbing leading into the competition and during partial closure days, 2/24-2/26:

Sender City
Upstairs Bouldering Area
Behind the Turkey Leg
Randy's Roof
Dihedral Wall
Sender Slab
Broken Column

We hope you will join us during this momentous time for climbing! We would love nothing more than to share this experience with you. Athletes from all across North, South, and Central America will vying for the final two spots in the Tokyo Olympics. To witness Olympic athletes in all of their glory, skill, and grace competing on our home walls may never happen again.

Tickets are on sale now! In addition to the main climbing segments, we have planned a stellar event for the weekend filled with food, beverages, and a vendor village. See you there!
